RadiciGroup continues its commitment to sustainable management: Radici Partecipazioni SpA (Gandino, BG), the Group parent company, has achieved ISO 9001:2015 certification for its Quality Management System.

“This certification is an important result for our Group,” said Maurizio Radici, vice president and COO of RadiciGroup. “Our objective was achieved thanks to the hard work carried out by our Quality and Process team, with the collaboration of all other corporate functions. We have equipped our parent company with a sustainable quality management system in line with and integrated with our Group business strategies. It’s a tool that is going to help us attain constant and concrete improvement in RadiciGroup performance.”

Illustrating the objectives and advantages of Radici Partecipazioni SpA's certification to the ISO 9001:2015 standard, Stefano Alini, corporate quality manager of RadiciGroup, noted: "Our parent company's quality management system was designed to ensure the effectiveness of corporate processes, which has a positive impact on the Group's individual subsidiary companies, as well as on our end markets. The latest version of the standard, ISO 9001:2015, focuses less on procedures and more on the organization's processes and their use to achieve the intended organizational objectives. This approach takes us in the direction of continuous sustainable improvement, a challenge that we have embraced for some time, as we believe it can be of concrete help in achieving and staying competitive in world markets."
